

HOW DO WE MEASURE PEACE?

MOST PEACEFUL

LEAST PEACEFUL

NO DATA

MICHELLE BRESLAUER

U.S. Program Manager at Institute for Economics & Peace

While the drivers and impact of violence receive widespread attention, there is comparatively little research on the factors that create and sustain peaceful societies. Michelle Breslauer will present the work of the Institute for Economics and Peace to measure and map national peacefulness and to identify the attitudes, institutions, and structures most closely associated with peace.

The Institute for Economics and Peace is an independent, non-partisan, not-for-profit research organization dedicated to shifting the world's focus to peace as a positive, achievable, and tangible measure of human well-being and progress. IEP produces the Global Peace Index, national peace indices, the US Peace Index, the Pillars of Peace framework, and analysis of the economic impact of peace.

AT THE CARRIAGE HOUSE/LGBT CENTER 3907 SPRUCE STREET

SUPPORTED BY Peace Day Philly, Institute for Economics and Peace, Middle East Center, Africa Center, Center for East Asian Studies, South Asia Center, United Nations Association of Greater Philadelphia

MORE INFO peacedayphilly.org/2013/01/01/howdowemeasurepeace/ CONTACT shown@sas.upenn.edu

2-4PM
THURSDAY
MARCH 28TH

INSTITUTE FOR ECONOMICS
& PEACE