

Build PEACE within your SCHOOL & CLASSROOM!

The United Nations International Day of Peace (“Peace Day”) is observed across the world each year on and around September 21. Peace Day Philly, the Philadelphia Region initiative for Peace Day, will take place Sept. 17 - Sept. 23, 2017.

Set aside ten minutes, an hour or more during this week to engage in activities that build awareness, understanding, racial and cultural respect as well as citizenship. Peace art activities can inspire and enhance your hallways, discussions about race can build understanding and greater respect, a collaborative class peace pledge can define positive class rules, and learning about people and cultures from different parts of the world - as well as the challenging issues they face - can build compassion and an active sense of local and/or global citizenship.

Here are a few easy - and free - ideas to bring Peace Day into your school or classroom:

Try peace breathing! Go to <http://bit.ly/1fdBjMu> (Teachers can check out the value of mindfulness for kids in a 40-minute video at <http://bit.ly/1HmOrcd>).

Create peace flags, peace cranes or pinwheels with words and images of peace! Go to <http://bit.ly/1FlOMur> for these and many other peace art ideas.

Write and/or draw peace pledges, share a few from each class and/or display them in the halls. For templates, go to <http://bit.ly/1uFtPoI>.

Watch & discuss a short film like “Game for Life” (soccer & social change): <http://bit.ly/1Nwsgnz>, or one of many short films and essays found on the Global Oneness Project’s website: <http://bit.ly/1IoUazt>.
